Subject: ELECTION WEBSITES MUST BE PUBLIC ORIENTED - NOT POLITICS ORIENTED.
Date: Friday, September 8, 2023 4:25:03 PM

Hello,

All Election websites should have the names of the candidates running in an election. This should include all candidates regardless of party affiliation. By not declaring the names, the websites are giving an unfair advantage to the incumbents.

Please do not discourage people from running for office if they are not affiliated with the two major parties. It should be a general rule for all election announcements, including clerks' and city websites throughout the country for publishing all the candidates' names before the election, and not just the results only. If they do not publish the names, they should face some sort of penalty.

Thanks
