ELECTION RESULTS FOR THE U.S. SENATE AND THE U.S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

This publication has been prepared by the Federal Election Commission to provide the public with the election results held in the fifty states in November 2018 for the offices of United States Senator and United States Representative. Also included are the results for Delegate to Congress from American Samoa, the District of Columbia, Guam, the Northern Mariana Islands, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. (There was not an election for Resident Commissioner in Puerto Rico, as this election is held every four years and coincides with the U.S. Presidential election.) Additionally, there are results for the special elections to fill the unexpired U.S. Senate terms in Minnesota and Mississippi, and in Michigan's 13th Congressional District, New York's 25th Congressional District and Pennsylvania's 7th and 15th Congressional Districts.

There was one Congressional seat left vacant after the November 2018 general election. The general election results for North Carolina's 9th Congressional District were not certified, a new election was ordered by the State Board of Elections, and the seat was filled in September 2019. The 2019 special primary and general election results for NC/09 special election are included.

The official results of the 2018 federal primary and runoff elections are also included. As in the case of the general elections, primary elections are not administered by the federal government. In some states (such as Connecticut, Utah, and Virginia), political party organizations control their nomination process by way of conventions. In other states, state law may regulate the primary and/or its administration.

The elections for these federal offices are administered by local election officials in towns, counties, municipalities, and other jurisdictions. The results of the elections are certified by the state government, which in most cases is the Secretary of State. While the full records are available for public inspection, most states prepare summary reports for public dissemination. These summary reports vary in form and content, and may be amended well after the election. There is no standard format that states use in reporting federal election results.

Recognizing a need to bring together in one place the federal election results, the Commission presents this publication as the 19th in a series designed to provide an accurate, historical record of federal election results. The Commission undertakes this project on a biennial basis in order to respond to public inquiries, and as a research tool for Commission staff.

Data is based on official figures obtained from State election officials. If the election results are modified in the future, the Commission will supply errata supplements as necessary. The assistance provided by the State election officials and their staff in the preparation of this publication is greatly appreciated.

Federal Elections 2018 may also be viewed and/or downloaded from the Commission's website, <https://www.fec.gov>.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

- The candidate who was the winner of the general election is listed first in the entry for each state and district (where applicable). After that, the candidates are arranged by party affiliation.
- Incumbent Congressional candidates facing re-election in 2018 are designated with an (I) to the left of the candidate's name. The lack of an (I) in a particular Senate race or U.S. House district indicates an open seat race.
- Because of redistricting (Pennsylvania), the Congressional District number of the incumbent may be different than when compared to 2016 election data.
- Because of redistricting (Pennsylvania), more than one incumbent may be listed in a single Congressional District.
- The party affiliation of the candidate is as listed on the ballot and has been abbreviated. A complete listing of party abbreviations appears at the end of this publication.
- Totals for write-in votes are shown as disclosed by the state. Some states list the names of candidates who received write-in votes, while others provide a write-in vote total without the names of the candidates who received the votes. Still other states combine these two variations and provide the names of some candidates who received write-in votes and a total of write-in votes for all the other candidates. For Montana, Rhode Island and Vermont, this publication lists the names of those receiving 5 or more write-in votes, with the remainder listed as "scattered." Registered write-in candidates that received "0" votes are not included.
- In some states, there were unopposed candidates whose names did not appear on a ballot and therefore received no votes.
- "Total Votes," "Total State Votes," "Party Votes," and "District Votes" represent all the valid votes cast for the candidates in the election. State totals (and the totals for the territories and the District of Columbia) are found in the summary charts and at the end of each state/territory section. Blank, void, under and over votes are not included.
- "Combined Parties" represents all the valid votes cast for one candidate, regardless of party. (This method is used where a candidate may be listed on the ballot more than once, with different party designations, i.e., in Connecticut, New York and South Carolina.) These votes are then broken down and listed by party. The party votes are enclosed by brackets [ ].
- The percentage of votes received by each general election candidate is based on the figure of total votes. The percentage of votes received by each candidate in a primary or runoff election is based on the figure of total votes cast in that specific primary or runoff election.
- Due to the rounding of percentage numbers, some percentages may not total 100%. Also, some states differ in how they round percentages. The percentages in this publication were all rounded the same way and may not match the percentages as reported by the state.

2018 ELECTION RESULTS

The following four sections present the primary, runoff and general election results for the U.S. Congressional elections held in 2018.

The November 2018 general election (along with Mississippi's November runoff election) resulted in the election of the 116th Congress. The following is the party composition of the 116th Congress, as determined by the results of these elections:

U.S. Senate

Republicans: 53

Democrats: 45

Independents: 2

U.S. House of Representatives

Democrats: 235

Republicans: 199

Vacant: 1#

The November 2018 general election results for NC/09 were not certified and a new election was ordered by the North Carolina State Board of Elections in 2019.

Notes on Charts

- * Runoff election vote totals have been included with the primary election totals. (For the U.S. Senate, a runoff election was held in Mississippi (Full Term). For the U.S. House of Representatives, runoff elections were held in Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Oklahoma, South Carolina and Texas.) For Mississippi, the November 27, 2018, Senate runoff election vote totals for the Unexpired Term have been included with the general election totals.
  - * For states that had votes for both full and unexpired terms, the votes for both terms are included in the totals. This applies to Michigan (MI/13), Minnesota (Senate), Mississippi (Senate), New York (NY/25), and Pennsylvania (PA/07 and PA/15).
- The following three situations account for blank spaces in the charts and should be considered when making comparisons or drawing conclusions about the vote totals.
- * In some states, i.e., Connecticut, Utah and Virginia, political parties may nominate general election candidates by party convention, rather than by primary election.
  - * In some states, there were unopposed candidates whose names did not appear on a ballot and therefore received no votes.
  - * 33 states had regularly scheduled U.S. Senate elections in 2018.

* A candidate is endorsed by the party at the party convention. A primary election is only held if a qualified challenger to the party endorsed candidate receives 15% of the delegate votes on roll call at the convention and files for a primary, or, if after the convention, a challenger files a requisite number of petitions to qualify for primary ballot access. Otherwise, the party endorsed candidate is the nominee. The Republican convention for the U.S. Senate was held on May 11, 2018, and the Democratic convention for the U.S. Senate was held on May 18, 2018. An asterisk denotes the party's endorsed candidate.

* Conventions are held by the political parties prior to the primary election. If one candidate achieves the required convention vote (in accordance with party rules) and there are no candidates that qualified for a primary election by gathering petition signatures, then the candidate is the nominee and the primary election is not held. If a convention candidate does not achieve the required convention vote, then the top two convention vote-getters will participate in the primary election, along with any candidates that qualified by the signature-gathering method. For the Democratic and Republican parties, the required convention vote for nomination was 60%. The Libertarian Party convention was held on April 14, 2018. The Republican, Green and Independent American Party conventions were held on April 21, 2018. The Democratic, Constitution and United Utah Party conventions were held on April 28, 2018. Convention nominees are noted with an asterisk.

* Washington utilizes a "Top Two" primary election system in which the top two vote-getters in the primary election advance to the general election regardless of party affiliation. According to the state, "Each candidate for partisan office may state a political party that he or she prefers. A candidate's preference does not imply that the candidate is nominated or endorsed by the party, or that the party approves of or associates with that candidate."

* A candidate is endorsed by the party at the party convention. A primary election is only held if a qualified challenger to the party endorsed candidate receives 15% of the delegate votes on roll call at the convention and files for a primary, or, if after the convention, a challenger files a requisite number of petitions to qualify for primary ballot access. Otherwise, the party endorsed candidate is the nominee. The Republican conventions for candidates for the U.S. House of Representatives were held on May 11, 2018, and the Democratic conventions were held on May 14, 2018. An asterisk denotes the party's endorsed candidate.

* Ranked-choice voting was used in the 2018 primary and general elections. Ranked-choice voting, sometimes called "instant run-off voting," allows voters to choose their candidates in order of preference, by marking candidates as their first, second, third and subsequent choices. The Democratic primary for Congressional District 2 and the general election for Congressional District 2 did not have majority winners on election night (the first-choice count) and went into ranked-choice voting rounds. The results shown above represent the first-choice totals. For the Democratic primary, the final-round vote totals were: Jared Golden, 23,611 (54.32%) and Lucas St. Clair, 19,853 (45.68%). For the general election, the final-round vote totals were: Jared Golden, 142,440 (50.62%) and Bruce Poliquin, 138,931 (49.38%).

** The November 6, 2018, general election results for the 9th Congressional District were not certified. On February 21, 2019, the State Board of Elections ordered a new election be held in Congressional District 9 pursuant to its authority under North Carolina G.S. §163A-1181. State law required that a new primary be held. The State Board met on March 4, 2019, and voted unanimously to approve the calendar for the new election: primary elections on May 14, 2019, with runoff elections held on September 10, 2019, if necessary. Since a runoff was not necessary, the general election was held on September 10, 2019. (The special general election would have been held on November 5, 2019, if a primary runoff election had been necessary.) The official results of the 2019 NC/09 special primary and general elections are provided below.

* Conventions are held by the political parties prior to the primary election. If one candidate achieves the required convention vote (in accordance with party rules) and there are no candidates that qualified for a primary election by gathering petition signatures, then the candidate is the nominee and the primary election is not held. If a convention candidate does not achieve the required convention vote, then the top two convention vote-getters will participate in the primary election, along with any candidates that qualified by the signature-gathering method. For the Democratic and Republican parties, the required convention vote for nomination was 60%. The Libertarian Party convention was held on April 14, 2018. The Republican, Green and Independent American Party conventions were held on April 21, 2018. The Democratic, Constitution and United Utah Party conventions were held on April 28, 2018. * In Virginia, the political parties may choose to nominate by convention rather than by primary election. Democratic Party convention date: 5/5/18 (District 5). Republican Party convention dates: 4/28/18 (Districts 5 and 8), 5/5/18 (District 7), 5/19/18 (District 6). Because the Republican candidates in the 5th, 7th and 8th Congressional Districts were unopposed in seeking their party's nomination, the conventions were not actually held. * Washington utilizes a "Top Two" primary election system in which the top two vote-getters in the primary election advance to the general election regardless of party affiliation. According to the state, "Each candidate for partisan office may state a political party that he or she prefers. A candidate's preference does not imply that the candidate is nominated or endorsed by the party, or that the party approves of or associates with that candidate."
